PETS Act of 2006

- On October 6, 2006 the President signed into law the Pet Evacuation and Transportation Standards (PETS) Act to ensure that state and local emergency plans address the needs of individuals with household pets and service animals following a major disaster or emergency.

3 Main Impacts of PETS Act:

- State and local emergency plans must now include provisions for people with household pets and service animals; allows the federal government to withhold grant funding for non-compliance
- During major disasters, FEMA must help states and local communities with costs related to companion animals.
- Each county must develop animal components for its emergency plans for evacuation, transportation, sheltering, veterinary care & more.

Some Emergency Shelters on Maui Now Accept Pets

Pets in carriers are held/cared for in different rooms apart from human shelter (reasons: safety, noise, comfort, allergies, hygiene)

- Maui Waena Intermediate
- Lokelani Intermediate
- Kalama Intermediate
- King Kekaulike High
- Baldwin High and Maui High

Note: Shelters in Lahaina, Hana, Lanai & Molokai do not accept pets yet

Shelter needs vary depending on type of disaster and during vs. after event

WIND EVENTS (hurricane, etc.):

- During event, wind-safe structure
- After event, outdoors under shade OK

FLOOD/TSUNAMI:

- Evacuate with pet to higher ground

ROAD CLOSURE due to fire/accident/flood (trapped away from home with or without pets)

- Emergency supplies in car/key with neighbor to feed pet

Preparedness for Your Pet

- Food, Water, and Treats (for at least 2 weeks)
- Bowls
- Cat litter
- Medications
- Leash (and long lead/ground stake)
- Identification (microchip is best; collar and tag are minimum required)
- Pet Carrier

Pet Carrier

- Should be large enough that pet can stand up and turn around (plus room for litterbox)
- Plastic carrier vs. metal carrier: consider weight, size, foldability
- Practice putting your pet in the carrier so when a disaster happens (or is predicted), you can get your pet into the carrier easily
- Use treats if necessary to coax pet into carrier
